

Greetings from Thailand,

I just wanted to bring you a quick update on the flooding situation here. It continues to get worse as the water is taking over more and more of central Thailand, and is also far deeper than anyone has ever experienced before. All on the Team in danger areas had lifted most things in their homes at least a meter off the ground. But that wasn't enough in some situations.

Art, Wan and Bow, and also John and Nok have had to leave their homes as the water came nearly to the ceiling. So most of their furniture is now under water and will be for several weeks it seems. Narutai's area is now under water as well. So far authorities in her housing estate have managed to pump the water out, but more water is expected in which case they will have to evacuate too.

NoiNon and Jeen and the FahSai House still have no water in their area. Ganya is also okay and so is Dang in his area, and so are Lorraine and I.

BUT - Water is now near our office area. We had lifted everything well over table height and made a barricade in front of the door as well, so are praying any water will not be higher than that barricade.

- Please could you pray for protection for our office and especially all those lessons and booklets that are in there.
- Please pray too for continued protection for FahSai House.
- Also please pray for team members who've have had to leave their homes. It's very uncertain how long it will be before they can return as the water could take several weeks to go down.
- Please continue to pray also for children studying with us who live in flooded areas - for God's protection for them and their families.
